ADOLF HITLER TO CELEBRATE 46TH BIRTHDAY

Germany's Course Of Action Awaited By Europeans

By Melvin K. Whiteleather
Berlin, April 19.—(P)—While Europe tensely awaited Adolf Hitler's reaction to League of Nations condemnation of Germany's rearmament, the Reich tonight made ready to celebrate the leader's 46th birthday tomorrow with typical Nazi fervor.

An inkling of the course he has decided upon at secret conferences at Munich and in the Bavarian mountains was expected to be given in Minister of Propaganda Paul Joseph Goebbels' radio address at noon tomorrow.

While the fiery little Goebbels ostensibly will devote his ten-minute speech, on "Hitler as the private man," to an elaborate eulogy of the Fuehrer, it was recalled that the propaganda minister has spoken for Hitler before.

Observers therefore deemed it likely that Goebbels would hint at the Reich's course in the face of the Geneva action.

A propaganda ministry official said tonight the Chancellor would spend his birthday at hard work on the international situation. He will leave Berlin for an unannounced destination about noon, said the official, who described his trip as an inspection and conference tour.

The spokesman said Hitler himself was not scheduled to make any public address tomorrow since he has not prepared.

Because his birthday will furnish the occasion for huge public demonstrations, however, some quarters believed it not unlikely the Chancellor might at the last minute seize the opportunity to express his views on the Geneva development.

V. H. S. DEBATE TEAM REMAINS IN STATE MEET

Ten Schools In Semi-Finals Of Forensic League Tournament

Ten schools remain in the semi-finals of the Illinois National Forensic League tournament, which is being held in Chicago. The Jacksonville high school debaters will resume debate this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

If the local team wins their next two debates they will be one of the three teams who are in the championship division. If they lose one more decision the school will be eliminated from the tournament.

The Jacksonville negative team defeated and eliminated Central Y. M. C. A. college and Sandwich, Ill., Friday, while the affirmatives lost to Rockford and Hinsdale. The Jacksonville debaters are defending state champions, having tied for that honor last year.

LABOR WANTS SECTION 7-A IN NRA LAW

Collective Bargaining Rights Will Be Demanded

Washington, April 19.—(P)—A heated dispute over whether labor's collective bargaining rights should be guaranteed by the new NRA bill or by separate legislation was in the making tonight at the capitol.

"Put 7-A back into the new NRA legislation and let it go at that," said most of industry.

The American Federation of Labor and the National Labor Relations Board, on the other hand, pressed for passage of the Wagner labor disputes bill. If that measure were enacted, they said, 7-A would be unnecessary.

This was but one of the problems before the senate finance committee as it prepared to start executive consideration of the bill to extend the NRA. The committee will hear reports tomorrow from its advisory staff on the voluminous record of testimony at extended hearings and the numerous letters and documents on NRA it has received by mail.

Among these was a still incomplete report from the Brookings Institution, concluding that on the whole, "NRA retarded recovery." The report was made public today by the institution with an announcement that this was being done ahead of schedule because it had been released prematurely by the senate finance committee.

Even after the codes had raised wages, this report said, the gains of the average employee were taken up by the increase in prices. It asserted also that extension of the NRA in substantially its present form would result in a "collapse of the code system."

Leon Marshall, a member of the NRA governing board, was among the economists who signed the report, but it was stated that he had contributed only "factual" matter and had not joined in the "expressions of judgment" assailing the NRA.

Neither Donald Richberg, chairman of the NRA board, nor Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA chief who so warmly defended his "baby" as senate committee hearings yesterday, commented on the Brookings findings.

WOMAN PLACED ON STAND AT KIDNAP TRIAL

Identifies Karpis As Man Who Purchased Flashlights

St. Paul, April 19.—(P)—From a woman department store employee the government today drew testimony linking Alvin Karpis, hunted Public Enemy No. 1, with the $200,000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping for which ten others, among them Arthur (Doc) Barker, named as Karpis' partner, are on trial.

Her testimony came near the end of a Good Friday session given chiefly to introduction of exhibits as the government, which earlier had put in the stories of the victim himself and his father, laid the foundation for new phases of its case.

Mrs. Florence Humphrey, saleslady in a department store here, identified a photograph of Karpis as that of the man to whom she sold three flashlights. The flashlights, already in evidence, were found on the lonely road near Zumbrota, Minn., where the ransom was paid. The government contends they were used for signalling.

Introduced in evidence and identified by various of a long series of witnesses were photographs, besides those of several defendants, of Harry Sawyer, alleged "fingerman"; Harry Campbell, Dr. J. P. Moran, Volney Davis, William Harrison and Karpis, all still sought to answer kidnap charges.

Room maps of the Bensenville, Ill., area, location of the alleged kidnap hideout, of the Portage, Wis., area where gasoline cans alleged to have been tossed out by the fleeing kidnapers were found, and of Minnesota were presented as evidence.

KITCHEN DAMAGED BY FIRE IN INN HERE

Flames from a kettle of grease which caught fire in the kitchen of the Peacock Inn, at 10:30 o'clock last night quickly spread to the woodwork and were checked by firemen before any serious damage resulted. A portion of the woodwork in the kitchen was charred and firemen were forced to cut a small hole in the ceiling to extinguish the blaze.

The damage will not be great, Fire Chief Carl Luter announced after a check up of the damage.

The firemen did an efficient piece of work on the blaze, confining it to the kitchen.

The Peacock Inn management will not be inconvenienced by the blaze as repairs were quickly made and service will continue today as usual.

MISSOURI MEETS DEMAND

Jefferson City, Mo.—(P)—The senate appropriations committee today drafted a resolution pledging the general assembly to appropriate $500,000 for relief during April as demanded by the FERA. The FERA released $500,000 to Missouri this week but Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, said no further funds would be forthcoming unless the state paid up an equal amount for April.

RELIEF SYSTEM IN STATE TO BE INVESTIGATED

FERA Representative Has Evidence Of Sabotage

By Harry L. Thomas
Illinois State News Editor

Chicago, April 19.—(P)—Howard O. Hunter, field representative of the FERA, tonight told a lively session of the Illinois emergency relief commission devoted almost entirely to consideration of criticisms of its practices, that he had "evidence of sabotage" against the present decentralized relief by employees of two state offices and that he planned an immediate investigation.

Hunter's charges followed presentation by several commission members of demands that it investigate the attacks from various sources leveled against it. The session also brought severance of responsibility for expenditure of relief monies from state auditor Edward J. Barrett and head commissioner Victor Olander declare "disaster faces us" as a result of the refusal of Washington authorities to continue allotments for Illinois relief after May 1 unless the legislature meets demands for assuming part of the burden.

"I have evidence of deliberate sabotage against the existing relief system on the part of some employees of the state auditor's and state treasurer's office," Hunter told the gathering. "I shall investigate and present my findings to Governor Horner."

Tom Mooney's Latest Freedom Move Defeated

San Rafael, Calif., April 19.—(P)—Tom Mooney's latest freedom move met with initial defeat here today when he was denied a writ of habeas corpus by Superior Judge Edward I. Butler of Marin county.

Judge Butler simply wrote "denied" at the bottom of the habeas corpus petition filed in Mooney's behalf several days ago by his San Francisco attorney.

The jurist, whose court is located just a few miles from San Quentin prison where Mooney is serving a life sentence for the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing in 1916, declined to comment.

His denial of the writ paved the way for Mooney's counsel to carry the petition to the state district court of appeals and then, if necessary, to the state supreme court.

George T. Davis, attorney who filed the petition, intimated at the time that the fight would be carried through the state courts as suggested by the United States Supreme Court last January.

The high tribunal, while refusing to consider a habeas corpus petition before it, advised the now elderly convict that he must first exhaust all means of relief provided by the state.

In his petition, Mooney alleged that he was convicted through perjured testimony and is being held in prison in violation of his rights under the United States constitution.

Cash Bonus Leaders Want Liberal Bill

Will Not Accept Compromise Measure Offered By Chairman Harrison

Washington, April 19.—(P)—Cash bonus leaders in the senate served notice today that the compromise bill offered by Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee was not satisfactory and that they would fight for a more liberal measure.

Senator Thomas D. Okie, long an advocate of full cash payment in new money, characterized the Harrison proposal as "a studied effort to postpone payment." He announced several amendments he would offer to improve the bill.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt said he had no plans for sending a special message to the senate on the issue and declined to comment further.

He went over the bonus problem earlier in the day with Senator King of Utah, a ranking Democrat on the finance committee who has opposed the bonus legislation in the past.

Several advocates of cashing the bonus certificates now said they would vote for the Patman bill passed by the house rather than the Harrison measure which was offered in an effort to provide a compromise acceptable to the administration.

PREFERRED CLAIMS WILL BE APPROVED

Quincy, Ill., April 19.—(P)—Judge Fred G. Wolfe, who will pass Monday on certain large claims against the defunct State Savings Loan, and Trust company, indicated today that he would approve the claims as preferred, but would rule that they must be paid out of funds on hand when the Bank closed and not out of general assets unless authority is produced which would require him to rule otherwise.

The preferred claims, including those of the federal reserve bank and the Standard Oil company, total more than $60,000 while the amounts on hand when the bank closed did not exceed $45,000. Interested attorneys are seeking to have their claims paid out of general assets.

AMELIA TAKES OFF

Burbank, Calif., April 19.—(P)—Amelia Earhart, courageous woman flier, hopped off from the Union air terminal at 9:33 p. m. (11:33 p. m. Central standard time) tonight in what she described as a non-stop flight to Mexico, D. C.

By Clarence M. Wright Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, April 19.—(P)—The social security bill, designed eventually to levy upward of $2,783,200,000 in new taxes and in return give financial aid to the aged, jobless, children and mothers, was rammed through the house today by the overpowering democratic majority.

The final roll call—372 for and only 33 against—ended two days less than three months of rough and tumble dispute. Indications were that more word-battering was in store for the measure in the senate.

As approved by the house, the bill embodied everything outlined in the president's message January 17. At that time he suggested the "establishment of sound means toward a greater future economic security of the American people."

Its passage was accompanied by laughter at the small number of opponents and a scattering applause. Many republicans, who had sought to strip the bill of its new taxes, were forced—to prevent "political suicide," they said privately—to vote for the whole measure.

The republicans, on one of their many motions, mustered 146 votes with some democratic aid in an effort to increase from $15 to $20 a month the maximum federal contribution for a needy old-age pension. Their action also included the proposed elimination of the sections levying payroll and income taxes for future annuity payments to persons under 65 now working.

But most of the democrats stayed in line, and smashed that motion under a 258 to 146 majority.

In the discard—for the rest of this session, administration leaders said—were such well-known old-age pension plans as the Townsend, Pope and Lundeen. The Townsend and Lundeen plans were rejected as amendments, and supporters of the Pope plan decided not to offer it and take a licking.

Young Nimz began acting strangely late last night. He went about town telling people his client had been acquitted. Then he went on a rampage in his room. He was taken to jail.

County Judge William L. Leech called a hearing today. An affidavit from the lawyer's father, Eli Nimz, of Chicago, was introduced. It ascribed his son's insanity to overwork incident to the trial.

Every Person Able To Work Will Get Job

Others On Relief Will Become Charges Of State Or County

By Gerald Miller Associated Press Illinois Correspondent

Washington, April 19.—(P)—Whoever can do a day's work, Aubrey Williams, deputy relief administrator, said today, will be an employable when the new $4,800,000,000 work relief program goes into effect.

But the 15 to 18 per cent of the 5,200,000 people now on relief rolls who are either mentally deficient or physically disabled will become charges of the state or county.

It was his answer to inquiries from Illinois officials who wondered how federal relief officials were going about determining who were the employables.

The federal government, Williams said, had announced it would develop a diversified work program to care for 3,500,000 of the unemployed. The counties, as time goes on, must foot the complete expenses of caring for the rest.

In Illinois, he said, the federal government will set up work relief employment bureaus in such industrial centers as Chicago.

"We will assign a quota," he said. "When we have employed all we can use, the rest will become a problem of county authorities."

"We do not know how they will raise the money. That is their problem."

Williams said every type of professional and hand-labor activity would be included in the new program.

State's Attorney Orders Men Jailed

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—(P)—Three men were jailed tonight on orders of State's Attorney Alfred H. Greening pending further investigation of an alleged attempt to prevent presentation of evidence in a murder case to the Sangamon county grand jury.

The men were Roy Anderson, Roy H. Hubbard and Henry Stephens, all negroes. Greening announced that Anderson, principal witness in the case, accepted $38 from the other two men allegedly to withhold his testimony.

The case involved Willie Greenwood, negro, charged with the fatal shooting of Essie Baker on March 9. The grand jury was reported to have returned a murder indictment against Greenwood.

Trace Bullet To Convict's Gun

Bloomington, Ill., April 19.—(P)—A firearms expert today traced a bullet taken the body of deputy sheriff A. L. Vonsar, slain during a raid here in January, to a gun allegedly belonging to Kelch Irwin, ex-convict on trial for the murder of the officer.

Preparing to close its presentation of evidence against Irwin, the state called as a witness C. M. Wilson, firearms expert from Northwestern University's crime detection laboratory.

Wilson explained to the jury tests he made to show that the bullet which killed Vonsar could have been fired from a .38-special revolver which East St. Louis police said Irwin had in his possession when arrested.

The state is expected to rest early tomorrow after clearing up "loose ends" of their case. Defense attorneys said they hoped to complete evidence in half a day.

WILL APPOINT CLERK

Hillsboro, Ill., April 19.—(P)—Circuit Judge T. M. Jett will go to Taylorville tomorrow to appoint a successor to Circuit Clerk Dan Downey, who died today.

The appointment will be temporary. Governor Henry Horner is expected to call an election to select a clerk for the rest of the term.

ATTORNEY FOR CHAS. SKINNER GOES INSANE

Harold Simz Taken To Asylum In Manacles

Dixon, Ill., April 19.—(P)—Charles Skinner, poem-penning hermit of Amboy, elected to make a final fight of his murder trial today after his chief counsel had gone suddenly berserk and had been taken to an insane asylum in manacles.

The 43-year-old poet is accused in the state charges of slaying 17-year-old Olive Derwent in a fit of frustrated love. After the loss of his principal defender Attorney Clyde Smith took up the eccentric versifier's case and opened the defense by subjecting major state witnesses to a raking examination before a packed court house.

As public interest hit a new peak, extra deputies were summoned to guard the defendant through the climatic stages of the trial.

Harold Simz, young barrister whose mind apparently cracked under the strain of the proceedings, broke up the furnishings of his board house room last night and was adjudged insane at a hearing today and was taken to the East Moline State hospital in handcuffs.

Smith gave no intimation of his plans as he stepped into the breach. He closely questioned a trio of prosecution witnesses—Dr. E. A. Sullivan, Mrs. Dorothy Camery, aunt of the comely victim, and Mrs. Earl Stout—but failed to shake their stories.

The physician and the aunt had testified that the high school girl had named Skinner as her assailant when told she might succumb to her wounds. The girl was fatally wounded last Jan. 30 by a stealthy gunman who fired a fusillade of bullets at her and her cousin, John Scott, as they sat in a parked car. Mrs. Stout related how Skinner had allegedly informed her that the "Little White Snow Flake" of his verses was "running around" with Scott.

Young Nimz began acting strangely late last night. He went about town telling people his client had been acquitted. Then he went on a rampage in his room. He was taken to jail.

County Judge William L. Leech called a hearing today. An affidavit from the lawyer's father, Eli Nimz, of Chicago, was introduced. It ascribed his son's insanity to overwork incident to the trial.

Huey Long Will be Given Control Over All Federal Monies in His Home State

By Ed Desobry Associated Press Staff Writer

Baton Rouge, La., April 19.—(P)—Despite the threat of Secretary Ickes to withhold public works administration funds from Louisiana, Senator Huey P. Long's legislature today put all but the finishing touches on bills to give him control of federal monies spent in the state in the future.

Ickes yesterday said Long had "half-souls of the intellect," and was met today by a statement from the Senator that he would answer Ickes on the floor of the senate Monday at Washington.

Another measure would give the "Kingfish" supervision over the finances of all parishes and municipalities, aimed principally at the antagonistic New Orleans city rule of Mayor T. Semmes Walmisley.

Only one measure was delayed, that giving the state administration absolute control of Louisiana's election machinery, but it was expected to go through, possibly with drastic amendment, before sine die adjournment tomorrow about noon.

The senate today rapidly passed 19 of Long's bills already given house approval and adjourned until tomorrow at 10 A. M., to pass six other bills making minor changes in existing laws.

The house is scheduled to meet at 10:30 A. M. tomorrow to concur in senate amendments to the bills, bringing to a close the fifth of Long's "special" sessions in the past nine months—sessions which made him absolute dictator of state affairs.

National guardsmen, enforcing martial law here since January 25 when anti-Long citizens rose in armed revolt, still guarded the legislative chambers.

Members of the commission, frankly dismayed by the state relief situation, discussed the action of the legislature in turning down Governor Henry Horner's proposal to increase the state sales tax from 2 to 3 per cent, and agreed that members of the legislature are not, in effect, "daring" the federal government to cut off Illinois relief funds but merely unable to reach an agreement on a method of raising the necessary money.

STATE POLICE RADIO SYSTEM IS PLANNED

Seven Transmitting Stations Will Be Established

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—(P)—Plans for the establishment of a state police radio system, urged as a means for improving law enforcement, are nearing completion, L. M. Taylor, chief of state highway police, said today.

Approximately one-quarter million dollars for the construction of the system has been included in the budget for the division of highways, Taylor said.

Taylor has conferred with Frank A. Rafferty, Chicago radio engineer, for the past several months on construction details of the system.

Tentative plans call for seven transmitting stations to be located so that every part of the state will come within the range of the broadcasts.

Definite selection of the cities for the location of the stations has not been made, Taylor said. Tests are being conducted to determine the type of receivers to be installed in patrol cars and motorcycles.

Contracts for the land and buildings for the transmitters and towers also have not been decided upon.

Just a Definition

The right use of words is often a talent, but can hardly be acquired by a study of definitions. There are too many shades of meaning, too many combinations of words, and too many tones of voice in which to utter them to permit anyone to conquer the dictionary and capitalize completely on his conquest.

For example; most people know what a pessimist is. If they go to the dictionary they find him to be a person who expects the worst or takes a gloomy view of events. They find that the word has a Latin derivation. But with all that knowledge, they have only begun to see the meaning of the pessimist.

Comes Elbert Hubbard with this definition: "A pessimist is one who has been intimately acquainted with an optimist." Figure that out. A person becomes a pessimist by listening to the senseless refrain of gladness of an optimist; he becomes so sick of optimism that he turns to pessimism for relief. Here is an idea that is not found in the dictionary.

Take another example; the word gentleman. The dictionary will give a conventional definition, which makes the word broad enough to cover most of the male portion of the human race. But here is a definition given by a youngster who did not consult the dictionary before speaking. "A gentleman is a man you don't know very well." Noah Webster could hardly beat that.

And here's another contained in the embarrassed exclamation of a mother when small boy at her side spied a man in the crowd and shouted "Daddy, Daddy."

"Hush, son, that isn't Daddy, that's a gentleman." Let the average husband laugh that off.

Reading The Board

Few people can read a chess board, much less the board on which the game of European diplomatic chess is played. The headlines in the press chronicle the moves, but only experts can read their meaning. Few realize, for instance that Italy does England's bidding, or that the Greek revolution caused Germany to frankly state that Italy does England's bidding, or that the Greek revolution caused Germany to frankly state that she was rearming and intended to do as she pleased.

Here is the layout, which may change any minute, the Greek revolution demonstrated that an air force can whip an army or a navy or both. Germany has an air force which is being rapidly made second to none. When she saw what happened in Greece her leaders figured they could tell the world the truth and fear nothing. They did it.

That sent the European diplomats scampering to conference. Meanwhile Italy is interested in Austria, but she would take Abyssinia in exchange for Austrian influence if England would say the word. Germany wants Austria and if she can be kept quiet, she may get it. England does not like Japanese interest in Abyssinia, where is located the control of the Nile waters, which feed the Egyptian cotton fields. England is trying to make herself independent of American cotton, a fact which should make the AAA do some thinking and to do it she is developing cotton culture in Africa.

Japan is bidding for cotton trade in Asia, which urks the British. Therefore Italy may be told to take Abyssinia, which will probably cost a few thousand Italian lives. Thus they play the game, and he who can read the board is wise indeed but woe be unto him if he reads it wrongly.

American Travesty

At Smithland, Ky., a man standing on a scaffold with a noose about his neck was allowed to address a crowd of 1,500 onlookers for 45 minutes before he was dropped thru the trap to his death. He denounced his accuser, the prosecutor and the people who came to witness the execution. His accuser talked back when he said if he had had $500 he could have bought off the chief witness.

Here is indeed the worst American travesty we have seen for sometime. The trial was continued after sentence was passed when nothing anybody would have to say would do any good. A public execution is at best a miserable exhibition and should not be permitted in any state. Only witnesses required by law should be present at any inflection of the death penalty.

Only morbid curiosity or desire for revenge can attract anyone to witness the death of a criminal. The executioner does only his duty. Guards and witnesses are there because they have to be. Reporters must get a true account of the affair. Anyone else has no business in the death chamber.

An execution should be made as brief and merciful as is compatible with good judgment. It is not a means of propaganda, but a stern agent of justice and should therefore be swift and sure.

The League Scolds

Nobody likes to receive a "bawling out." When a nation is scolded by an institution that has no power to back up its condemnation, the reaction is never favorable. Such is the case with Germany, which has been scolded by the League of Nations for not shooting the Versailles treaty by rearming. The vote was secured on a resolution adopted by Great Britain, France and Italy, and was engineered by France.

The moral effect on Germany will be less than nothing, and resolution has already caused that nation to decide to refrain from all international conferences in future. As for the rest of the world, the League has been so often rebuffed and scorned that its protestations can have little effect, even in lining up sentiment against Germany.

The entire procedure was little more than a gesture of displeasure. However, the League is considering means to enforce its scoldings through economics and finance. Boycotts or a refusal to loan money might do some good, but either might also bring on war. The League has no means of enforcement, and it is hardly possible the member nations are enthusiastic enough about it to risk war in defense of its decrees.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Own Files Show NRA Tends to Solidify Monopolistic Practices . . . Real Fire in Henderson's Findings Is Well Banked . . . Collusion in Bidding Still Alive.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington.—NRA knows how to be honest with itself—but not with the rest of us.

Congress would like to know whether as Senator Borah has always said, NRA has had the effect of fostering monopolies, monopolistic practices, and monopolistic prices.

There's plenty of evidence that it has and the evidence is to be found in NRA's own files. But investigating senators, considering new legislation, will have to dig a lot deeper before they get it.

Operating with NRA codes, monopolistic industries have frozen high prices solid. Even federal, state, and city governments, despite a special exemptioning order by NRA aimed at correcting the evil and saving the taxpayers a lot of money, can't get discounts on their large-scale purchases of many types of supplies.

You can read about it in the NRA Research and Planning Division's study of the effects of Executive Order 6767, issued last June to permit bidders on public contracts to quote prices not more than 15 per cent below those allowable to private purchasers under their codes. (If you can get a copy! Very few are available.)

"Fire" Is Suppressed

But you'd never imagine the true state of affairs if you merely read the official report on the study, prepared and addressed to the president after Senator King had asked for it.

It isn't clear just who wrote it, but it's signed by Acting Chairman Donald Richberg of NRA and seems to have been prepared with the dominating idea of suppressing the strong language and sensational conclusions in Research and Planning Director Leon Henderson's summary of the study.

Executive Order 6767 was an answer to a great howl from federal, state, and city purchasing agents who claimed taxpayers were being soaked by a flood of tie-bids (identical bids) on public contracts.

It was assumed lower bids within the 15 per cent margin would be submitted by supply industries and that there'd be a greater variance of bids.

But look at a few excerpts from Henderson's summary of findings: "... the preponderance of obtainable evidence indicates that Executive Order 6767 was only sporadically effective in increasing competitive bidding upon contracts to be let by public purchasing agents."

Many Bids Increased

"Out of a total of 85 sets of contracts studied (a total including practically all purchases of the procurement division of the treasury and the bureau of supplies and accounts of the navy), 41 showed an increase in the amount of tie-bidding after the order was issued, 10 showed no change, while 34 showed a decline."

"The percentage of tie-bids increased notably in such industries as iron and steel, paper and pulp products and building materials. It remained about the same in such industries as automotive, paint and varnish, chemical and glass containers, and decreased substantially in such industries as asbestos, scientific apparatus, and cement . . .

... practically no evidence was found that the order secured to the public exchequers even a fraction of the potential savings which it was hoped a 15 per cent discount upon government purchases would achieve. Almost universally bidders upon public contracts failed to offer a discount . . .

Monopoly Unbroken

"Finally, the order has not served to loosen at all the grip of strongly organized industries upon the prices and upon the consumers of their products. So far as the evidence obtainable for this study is concerned, monopolistic competition has continued and has even been stabilized in many respects by the codes."

"The evidence that is here to be had shows overwhelmingly that these monopolistic or quasi-monopolistic groups have cartelized under the codes to such extent as to bring about increased rigidity and gradual petrification in the price structure . . .

"A realistic and factual analysis can scarcely have any other outcome than to pose emphatically the question: How can the codes and the NRA be welded into a device which, by promoting fair competitive practices, price flexibility, and industrial stability, thereby brings about increased industrial production and increased real social income?"

All of which was considered too hot to pass on to the public. The official report on the study is full of weaselly phraseology. It even says tie-bids "may indicate the closest kind of competitive bidding," to which purchasing agents will merely reply: "Oh, yeah?"

Dust Storms Block Midwest Highways

Cold Weather Delays Apple Blossom Time in Many Illinois Counties

Dust storms through Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas have been occurring so frequently that driving conditions in these and other Western States have been very uncertain, the Jacksonville Auto Club reports. It is impossible to drive through some sections while these storms are raging and frequent local inquiry should be made by those making trips through these states.

The apple blossoms in Calhoun, Pike, Greene, Jersey and other southern Illinois counties were scheduled to be in full bloom by Easter Sunday. However, the past few days have been unusually cool and has retarded blooming to such an extent that the full blossom time may be delayed.

To get to Hardin, in Calhoun county, go to Jerseyville and No. 38 to Hardin. All paved. To see the apple blossoms and flowering dogwood it is necessary to leave the pavement here and take a gravel and semigravel road into the county. Another route entering the county at Kampsville is via US-67 to Carrollton and 108 into Kampsville, crossing the Illinois river by ferry.

The best route into Pike county is via US-36 to Pittsfield and thence on US-54. From Atlas, on US-54, there is a gravel and dirt road along the Mississippi river bluffs, south through the apple country into Calhoun county.

State Highway No. 100, which leads south from Detroit, on US-36 is not paved between Milton and Pearl. A 23-mile detour is being used here but it is not advisable in rainy weather.

One of the largest buildings in Pere Marquette State Park, which is north of Grafton, Ill., on state highway No. 109, will be completed by May 19th, and will be dedicated by Governor Horner on that date. The building is a rustic lodge.

HOSPITAL SEARCHES FOR 8 DISC WHEELS

Tour of Junk Yards is Made Without Results

Authorities at Jacksonville State Hospital are looking for eight red disc cultivator wheels with green handles. The wheels were taken from the hospital's disc at the Lukeman farm during the latter part of last week, and since that time the hospital authorities have canvassed all of the junk yards in an unavailing search for the wheels.

Just what the wheels could be used for, other than the purpose for which they were manufactured, is baffling the hospital workers in their search for the missing wheels. The wheels are only eight inches high.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier: Beverly Hills—That was a great flight the Pan-American made. They will do some great work out there. I have often wondered why the army and navy don't make that flight almost regularly. A night or so ago I went to listen to Amelia Earhart tell of making it. Don't miss it. Her personality equals her flying skill.

Huey has the greatest chance he has had now the government is spending so much. A state, if it had the will, and the leadership, could work itself out. So if he refused any money, pitched in and did, then he would prove something. It could be done! (Copyright, 1935)

BY CHARLES GRUMICH

Lawrence, Kas.—(P)—Rain-washed atmosphere and a firm cinder track today welcomed the vanguard of a thousand spike-shod athletes from three score colleges bent upon record-breaking performances in the 13th renewal of the Kansas relays.

The carnival management set to rest the fears expressed by coaches from distant places that swirling dust storms might handicap their stars and added the testimonial of Glenn Cunningham that conditions were favorable.

After springing 440 yards at a clip in the final tune-up for a special eight-furlong race against a mile duo and a pacing relay team, Cunningham declared everything was shipshape and that, barring a resumption of the rain, records were likely to be altered by the largest field in Kansas relays history.

It is homecoming time for Cunningham, who returned to his native state in a renewed effort to pound his own best mark for the mile down another notch after winning 10 straight races so far this year, two of them in world record time. Officials were confident he would beat the comparatively poor time of 4:12.7 he made last year in beating Gene Venzke by 20 yards and that he would be much nearer his own world mark of 4:06.7.

The pacers, each assigned to one turn around the quarter-mile oval, will run the outside of the track, or a total distance of approximately a mile and 120 yards while Cunningham is being chased around the "pole" by two of his old victims at the mile—Glenn Dawson and Harold Manning.

The first five events of the decathlon, drawing a record field of 19 for the all-around test, were programmed for this afternoon and the last five will be run off Saturday morning along with the preliminaries in the sprints and hurdle races.

Cunningham's appearance will be on a 23-event program—10 specials, 10 individuals and 13 relays—scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Boy Berry, Exeter Merchant, Badly Hurt in Collision

Two Women Slightly Injured When Car Demolishes a Truck in Crash

Roy Berry, proprietor of a general store at Exeter, was seriously injured shortly after noon Friday when the truck he was driving on a trip to Jacksonville was struck by a car at the Ebaugh corner on Route 36. Mrs. Mary Clark and Mrs. Carl Powell, who were riding with Mr. Berry, were also hurt, but not seriously.

The three injured persons were brought to Our Saviour's hospital, where they were attended by Dr. R. M. Norris. Mr. Berry has a fracture of the pelvis, which is a most serious injury. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Powell received minor abrasions and bruises.

The Berry truck was traveling east. The other car was coming from the south, and the two machines collided at the junction of the gravel with the slab.

It is understood the car struck the middle of the truck and rolled it over several times. It was a light truck and practically demolished in the collision.

Former U. of I. Men Direct the World's Biggest Bridge Job

Several Former Illinoisans Boss 4 1/2 Mile Span in San Francisco Bay

Urbana - Champaign, Ill. — The world's biggest bridge job, the 4 1/2-mile San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, is largely a University of Illinois alumni project. The bridge has been under construction since July, 1933 and will not be completed until 1937.

The bridge, 4 1/2 miles long with approaches, will measure 8 1/2 miles long with them. It will be a double-deck structure, with six lanes of automobile traffic on the upper deck, and two lanes of trucks, plus two sets of interurban tracks, on the lower deck.

E. J. Schneider, a graduate of the University in 1900, is president of the Columbia Steel Company which has the contract for the entire superstructure involving an expenditure of $22-530,568.30.

Charles E. Andrew, a member of the class of 1906, as state bridge engineer for California, has had a great deal to do not only with the construction but with the design of this great structure.

He supervised the work of 75 to 100 designing and construction engineers.
At present time he is superintendent of construction.

The acting state bridge engineer for the Golden State is F. W. Panhorst, who graduated from the University in 1915.

H. G. Butler, class of '06, consulting engineer, is collaborating with the two railroad systems (Southern Pacific and Key) in financial and track arrangements.

I. O. Jahlstrom, class of '25, is the resident engineer on the West Bay substructure.

N. W. Reese, class of '20, is resident engineer of the San Francisco anchorage contract of the Healy-Tibbitts Construction Company. The anchorage is a massive block of concrete as big as the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

John R. Fox of '06, is assistant contracting manager for Columbia Steel and Charles S. Conrad, class of '19, is manager of the stainless steel department of the same firm.

Morgan County Has Relief Funds for Another Two Weeks

Activities Will Continue Despite Problem Now Before Officials

Relief activities will be carried on in Jacksonville and Morgan county during the remainder of this month, regardless of the outcome of the deadlock between the state legislature and federal relief officials. Mrs. Tillie J.
Kelly, county director of relief, responded Friday that this county has sufficient funds to keep all programs going until April 30.

Strict economy has been observed in administering relief here, and because of this Morgan county has remained within its budget. The number of families on relief has decreased slightly, a condition that has not been noted for many months.

On March 1 Morgan county had 1, 487 families on relief; April 1, 1,472 families; April 15, 1,474 families.

With the matter of future relief funds uncertain owing to the order of Director Harry Hopkins still unmet by the legislature, Morgan county does not face an immediate emergency.

Two more weeks remain before local funds would become exhausted.

GIVE CANTATA AT GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE HERE

Music Of Chorus Features Program: Rev. W. A. Richards Speaks

Inspiring in its theme and in the grandeur of its music, the Lenten Cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," DuBois, was rendered last evening by a chorus of voices in the Good Friday service held at the Congregational church.

The musical insight and interpretative ability not only as a director but as a soloist was displayed by Mrs. Helen Brown Read in the production as given by the splendidly trained voices.

The nobility and majesty of the theme which expresses deep emotional intensity was impressively portrayed by the entire ensemble. The solo parts were admirably taken and with clear enunciation enhanced the great beauty of the service.

Miss Doris Robinson in her rendition of the soprano solo parts showed a clearness of tone with fine interpretation. A rich and vivid quality appealed to the audience in the solo of Miss Rhoda Olds. The bass solo by Wayne Carter and tenor solo by Howard Potter was splendid parts of the service.

Mrs. A. R. Gregory in the solo, "He Was Despised and Rejected of Men," showed a beauty and power of voice which was most effective. The theme was deeply felt and the inspiring effort of the service was brought out by the chimes, organ prelude and support given by Miss Mary Tormey throughout the program.

Rev. W. A. Richards delivered the sermon of the evening upon the subject, "Jesus The Pioneer," which was filled with thoughts of inspiration for the Easter Sunday. Jesus enlarged the life, the vision and with undaunted courage made a new way into the hearts of men and to God, the great Loving Father, eager to receive and to love. Jesus brought new qualities to men and by his suffering life to men and to humanity.

The complete program was as follows:

Chimes and Organ Prelude—Miss Mary Tormey.
Hymn—No. 148.
Scripture Reading.
Introduction, Soprano Solo—Miss Doris Robinson.
First Word: "Father Forgive Them."
Solo "God My Father"—Miss Rhoda Olds.

X-RAY STUDIES ARE DISCUSSED AT I.C. FRIDAY

W. O. Milligan, Graduate Of College, Is Speaker Last Night

W. O. Milligan, a graduate of Illinois College with the class of 1930, addressed students and friends of the college in the Jones Chapel at 7 o'clock Friday evening on the subject, "X-ray Studies on the Hydrous and Hydrated Oxides." Dr. Milligan was a chemistry major in college, acting as laboratory assistant to Professor W. S. Leavenworth in that department, and has continued in this field of work since his graduation, achieving considerable distinction.

Dr. Milligan is instructor in chemistry and a member of the research staff at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, a university which emphasizes science more than any other field of knowledge. Dr. Milligan is also consultant for a chemical concern in the East, and is the author and co-author of articles which have appeared recently in the Journal of Physical Chemistry, the Journal of the Chemical Society, the Review of Scientific Instruments and the Colloid Symposium Annual.

He received his doctor's degree from Rice Institute in 1934. While at Illinois College Dr. Milligan was a member of Pi Phi Rho literary society.

In his talk to the students Friday evening, Dr. Milligan stated that the field of hydrous and hydrated oxides is a branch of chemistry which has been studied very extensively, especially in the last decade. It is of importance to both theoretical chemists and to certain industries to find out just exactly what hydrates are formed in the case of many of the metallic oxides. Dr. Milligan emphasized the theoretical side of this subject in his talk last night. After a brief survey of the methods of research, he spoke in detail on the hydrous oxides of aluminum, tin, titanium, iron and certain rare metals.

Dr. Milligan stopped in Jacksonville on his way east, where he will attend the meeting of the American Chemical Society in New York City next week. At this meeting Dr. Milligan will present a paper entitled "X-ray Studies on the Hydrous Oxides, Part VII. Gallium, Indium and Thallium Oxides."
